There was a young fellow named Stratton
Who thought in French, Spanish and Latin
But a 'cherubic face'
Led him quite a chase
Result ? Conversation smooth as satin.

There was a queer old Western gent
Who loudly announced his name as Dent
Though we never saw him sober
He may straighten by October
But goodness only knows which way he went.